FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

We want you to have the best experience possible when evaluating building or upgrading your system. We accomplish this with true transparency. Below are a few questions we often get asked about our experience and our process. We'd be happy to clear up any questions you might have.

Give us a call at 1-800-650-8882

01. What software languages can you develop with?

We are experts with PHP, MySQL, HTML5, CSS, WordPress, FileMaker Pro, FileMaker Go, C#, SQL, ASP.Net and Java.

02. Is it possible to have our web system integrate with other systems we currently use? Eg. Accounting software.

We have a great deal of experience integrating multiple systems together. Integrations have varying degrees of complexity and we typically have to evaluate your systems to estimate overall cost.

03. Can you make my application/website work with mobile devices?

Absolutely. We'll bring your data to the palm of your hand using iOS, Android, and Web development. Our system designs are done with responsive methods in mind. This means that your system will adjust to each users display & look great no matter if viewed on mobile, desktop or any monitor size. Take a look at our mobile development portfolio to get an idea of what we can do for you!

04. Can we create custom reports? I'm not sure exactly what I will need right now.

Every client gets the chance to work through our needs analysis and business requirement definitions and most often we can work out reports that you will need through these phases, but if you truly require fully customized reporting, we can build it.

05. I don't always have the internet where I am.

Not a problem. Our systems can be built so that they will work with local access on your device and then sync once you reconnect to the internet again.

06. Is SEO included in your pricing?

All of our websites are built with search engine optimization in mind. All of our projects are built with clean code and designed to be SEO friendly. Good search engine rankings are based on proprietary algorithms and require ongoing maintenance. We have Google analytics certified staff on site that can review your campaigns if you are interested.

07. Can I update my website/system myself, or will I need you to make changes?

We build to your specifications, which means that if you want greater control, we can build dashboards and tools to help you easily make changes to your system/website. This often requires more up front work so there will be an increased cost.

DON'T JUST TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT.

“ The CoreSolutions business style and approach placed emphasis on understanding the customers need, then developing a solution that met that need in a timely manner. (It's amazing what you get when people take the time to listen to what you want and build that as a solution). This came with lots of advice on options available (pros and cons). A great experience. I really enjoyed working with the entire team and appreciate that CoreSolutions stand behind their work and will support it when required.

“ I have dealt with a number of developers and in retrospect the experience with CoreSolutions has always been very positive in comparison. The other developers seem to have policy in place that is aimed at protecting their stake in the working relationship rather than ensuring a mutually beneficial experience and a positive outcome for the project being worked on. The relationship with CoreSolutions in comparison has been easy, open, and trustworthy.
